

Welcome to the practice! Functional medicine is root cause medicine. We are excited that you will be working with our team to find out the root causes of your health issues. Our practice is structured radically different to ensure that you have the time, the right providers, the right education, and the right types of testing to ensure you get the results you need to feel great.

On your first visit you will be meeting with Maggie Yu, M.D. and functional nutritionist, Frankie Niwot. During that visit, your symptoms, previous work up, and extensive history will be taken to determine which medical and functional medicine tests are needed to identify the underlying causes of your health issues. Please fill out all the forms in this packet and bring it to your first visit. These forms are designed to help bring "your story" to life for us. We are focused on making connections in your health and family history that forms a cohesive story. Your story helps us identify the root causes of your symptoms. This first visit will take at least an hour. Please arrive 45 minutes early with all the forms completed to ensure that you complete our extensive intake process and that you are ready to get the full time on this visit.

We are not your traditional factory medicine clinic. You will learn about and experience a radically different and comprehensive approach to your health. You are going to meet and understand Dr. Yu's philosophy and style of practice. This will also serve as an extensive mutual interview where we both get to ask each other many questions to ensure that this is a great fit for both.

One great way to interact with our practice is through the new patient portal through Athena Health. You should have already received an invitation in your email. If you have not, please call us. You will be able to send direct messages to your provider, nutritionist, or health care team without having to call and in your own words. The portal is a great way for non-urgent communications and requests. Please sign up as soon as you can.

Here's to a new therapeutic partnership between you and your health care team. Welcome to a new approach to functional wellness. I can't wait to see you soon! Let's start your next chapter!

Maggie Yn , M. D.

Welcome!

I wanted to take the opportunity to introduce myself so that you can make the most of your relationship with our practice!

I will now be joining your healthcare team. I am Frankie Niwot, your personal nutritionist. Whether you have worked with your nutritional health in the past or if this is a new chapter moving forward, the way nutrition works with Functional Medicine is different. I am writing to let you know the 'how,' the 'why' and the 'what' of what makes nutrition a functional part of your health journey.

Holistic nutrition is an integral part of Functional Medicine because we believe that nutrition is one of the key foundations of health. Nutritional deficiencies are common for many reasons; including, long held eating habits, sugar overload and blood sugar imbalance. Each of these must be addressed in order to really move towards wellness. Nutritional deficiencies are often at the root cause of chronic illness so there is a lot of clarity that can come with an initial dietary intake.

So what will our sessions look like? My main role is support with making changes in how you are eating and what you eating. The how is often overlooked in our fast paced life and eating can often get pushed to the back burner, crashing our blood sugar and leaving us grouchy or fatigued. These feelings can then lead to last minute choices or over eating to compensate. Blood sugar also has a large impact on hormonal and endocrine health. In addition, some patients need specialized dietary recommendations for food intolerance or gut infections. Whatever the current health concern, nutrition is often a part of the picture and can be drastically helped by increasing the right nutrient dense foods in your diet.

In our practice, Dr. Yu and I work as a close team to manage your concerns and provide certainty moving forward. Our initial sessions are seen together when possible to get a better understanding of health history. Together, we develop a step by step plan to support your health concerns. We discuss the best way to keep the diet diverse while eliminating triggers and food intolerances. Our approach is thoughtful of your schedule, living situation, history with food and dieting, so that our recommendations can be the ones that work.

Some of our tools include food intolerance testing, gut healing protocols for autoimmune conditions and gut infection diagnostic work up. With these tools we eliminate digestive upset or reactions that can feel random. By collecting the data points to address your unique condition, we are able to map out an individualized treatment plan with daily dietary recommendations. I also take into special consideration you relationship with food which may be based on your history with dieting and weight loss. With a positive relationship to food we are able to meet the full scope of your health needs, making nutrition a foundation of our approach.

In addition to our visits, I am also here to support your diet changes via our patient portal so feel free to reach out at any time! So excited to see you soon and to be a part of your functional medicine team!

All the Best,

Frankie Leigh Niwot
